Europe

Small size, big power.

Our customers challenged us to develop a compact, maneuverable and highly efficient solution for medium depth drilling in a wide variety of applications, and Atlas Copco delivered, with the new X-AIR+ 750-25!

We halved the size and the weight of the compressor, the new X-Air+ 750-25 was designed in a smaller canopy with double axle, offering a lightweight and compact solution for our customers and partners making it easy to transport everywhere.

Courtesy of our world class engineering & manufacturing teams, this innovative solution will also optimize its fuel efficiency, saving not only fuel investment, but also contributing for lower carbon footprint in your operation.

All facts together will make our customers reach best in class total cost of ownership.
